This child is struggling and sad because he is carrying a big heavy bag. It looks like there are cocoa beans on the floor. Also I think he lives in Africa. ✓

These pictures make me think that life is not fair because in the 1st picture the boy is having fun in the park and he is probably gonna go to his house and his dinner would be on the table. But for the 2nd picture the boy is working really hard and he might be making his own dinner or he might not get any dinner. In the 2nd picture if people work really hard for fair trade the child might be able to go to school. Fair trade helps the farmers and people's lives.
